

The bridal party at the season's prominent society wedding, that of Miss Katherine Mackay, daughter of Mr. Clarence H. Mackay, and Mr. Kenneth O'Brien, son of former Justice and Mrs. Morgan J. O'Brien, at St. Mary's Church, Roslyn, L. I. Left to right: Miss Muriel Vanderbilt, Mrs. Morehead Patterson, Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Jr.; Mrs. Edwin Post, Jr.; Mr. Clarence H. Mackay, father of the bride; the bride and bridegroom, Miss Ellin Mackay, Miss Evelyn Wadsworth, Mrs. Pierce H. Butler and Mrs. J. H. McFadden.

Alexander A. Brown.

Queen Victoria of Spain snapped with the former Empress Zita of Austria and her children while on a visit to the palace of the Marquis of Torregrossa, where Carl's widow makes her home.

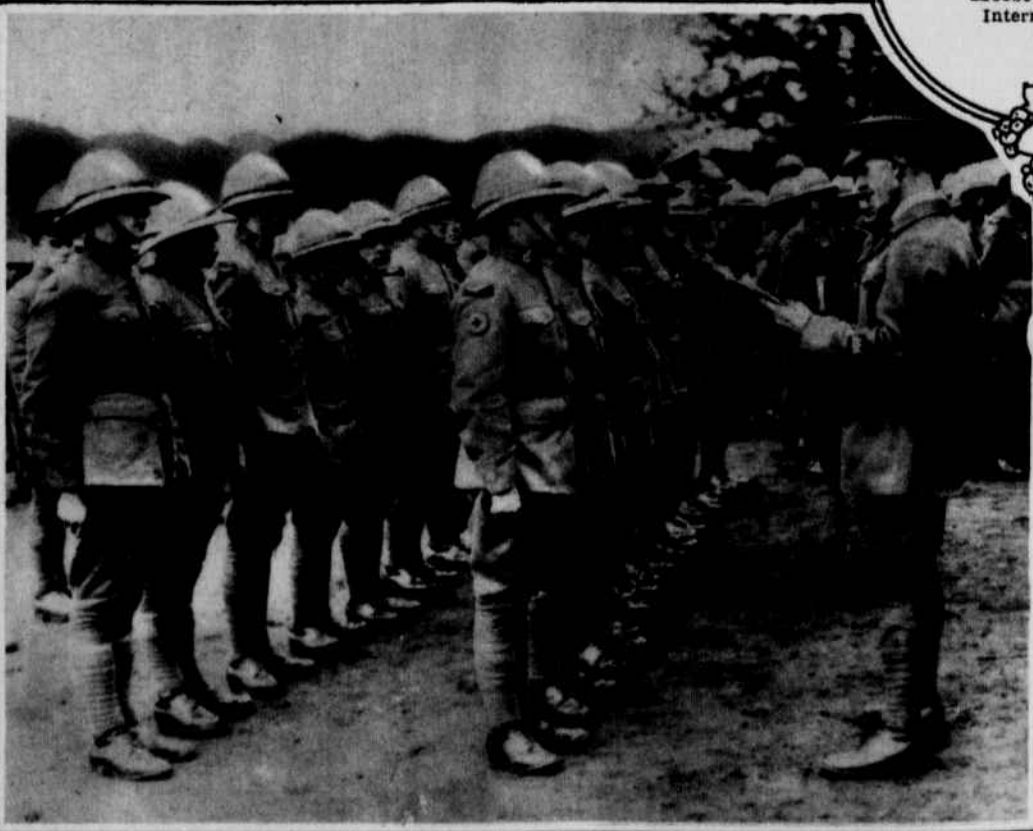

Wide World.

Master Arthur McCashin taking the jumps with Irish Knockout at the Monmouth County Horse Show. International.

Mrs. George H. Ruth, wife of "The Babe" of home run fame, and her daughter, Dorothy Helen, whose birth was kept secret for sixteen months because it was feared she would not live.

British reinforcements leaving for Turkey—a detachment of officers and men of the Royal Air Forces, in new pith helmets for tropical service, undergoing inspection before embarking at Southampton.

International.

The new officers of the New York State Department of the American Legion, elected at the annual convention in Syracuse. Left to right: William T. Hulse, treasurer; John R. Schwartz, adjutant; C. W. A. Cannon, first vice-commander; Albert S. Collan, State commander; William E. Flinders, second vice-commander; Ralph K. Robertson, national executive committeeman; Chester D. Fuller, third vice-commander, and F. B. McLean, alternate national committeeman.

William W. Corcoran, American consular officer and whip of the famous French hunting organization at Le Touquet, who has been decorated by the French Government for rescuing a child from drowning in the English Channel last December.

Harris & Ewing.